

DATA PRIVACY AND PROTECTION

In this data-fueled digital economy, enterprises face the risk of revenue loss in the aftermath of a data breach, which is generally accompanied with a damage to brand reputation. As a result they are posed with a host of challenges while managing data privacy and protection programs.

Client Challenges

Sustained compliance with multiple data privacy mandates from several regulatory bodies across countries and / or geographies

Lack of visibility of sensitive data across the organization – Structured vs. Unstructured, Cloud vs. On-premise, Internal vs. External

Protecting sensitive data from internal and external threats

Siloed and disjoint processes and technologies - Interplay between legacy systems and emerging technologies
